

Abundant Autumn Harvest

Turnip Snowball White Globe

60 days to maturity. Snowball White Globe is a turnip that is sweet and mild in flavoring. They have white skin and flesh that are firm and juicy. These turnips can reach up to the size of a tennis ball but are also great earlier when smaller in size.

Carrot Culinary Blend

60 – 70 days to maturity. Culinary Blend contains a tasty blend of yellow, white, and orange carrots. Each variety is suited for both baby root production and cooking. This blend is excellent roasted in the oven. All three varieties are prized for flavor and color.

Swiss Chard Cardinal

50 – 60 days to maturity. This Swiss Chard has a deep crimson stalk that runs into the veins of the leaves. The leaves are glossy, dark and heavily crumpled. Cardinal's stalks can be cooked like asparagus while the leaves like spinach. However, both can be used raw.

Radish Halloween Mix

20 – 30 days to maturity. Halloween Mix contains purple, yellow, black and white radishes. They are mildly spicy and 5 centimeters in diameter. Everyday can be a holiday if you succession plant this mixture every two weeks throughout the spring and fall. These radishes will bring lots of colors to your dishes.

Broccoli Purple Sprouting

120 – 200 days to maturity. Purple Sprouting is an old English type broccoli that is 24 to 36 inches tall with small purple heads. The heads are sweet tasting and turn green when cooked. Plant grows slowly through the winter and sprouts prolifically in the spring just in time for harvest.

Lettuce All Seasons Mix

Usually 4 to 5 varieties are blended to create colorful mixtures with varying leaf types. This garden blend is selected for heat and drought tolerance. All Season Sampler is an excellent choice for sowing in containers and gardens throughout the year.

Onion Cipolini

Unique coin shaped yellow onion. Can be grown in most US latitudes, and still performs well. Good pungency and still sweet. Larger and flatter than most pearl onions, great choice for any cooking or braising use. Excellent when used in crafts like braiding and has excellent storage ability for a small onion.

Parsley Evergreen

70 days to maturity. An All-American Selection winner in 1940, Parsley Evergreen are dark green curly parsley that contain excellent flavors. They are more frost resistant than other varieties and grow vigorously. They are a great addition to soups and salad as well as garnish. Evergreen can be used fresh or dried.
